

siege Alhama, 330, 336. Withdraw, 334, 337. Skirmish with the Spaniards before Loja, 342. Internal dissensions among the, in Granada, 349. Their opposition to the Christians in the expedition to the Axarquía, 361. Their losses at the battle of Lucena, 378. Strength of their fortresses, 384, 388. Their modes of defence, 388. Terms to the vanquished, 389. Policy in fomenting the factions among them, 405. Success and advancement of the Christians against, 408. Their civil feuds at the siege of Malaga, II. 25. General sally of the, 30. Termination of their empire in the Peninsula, 102. Their destiny, 105. Talavera's mild policy for the conversion of, 406. Books of the, burnt, 413. Revolt in the Albaycin, 416. Conversion of, at Granada, 422. Called Moriscos, 422. Rising of the, in the Alpuxarras, 426. Their punishment, 429. Measures for introducing Christianity among them, 430, 453. Transported to the Barbary coast, 442. Edict against those in Castile, 446. Termination of their history, during the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, 455. Prohibited from going to the New World, 488. Expedition against, in Africa, under Ximenes, III. 299. Their loss at Oran, 306. See Granada. Moral energy, remarks on, II. 401. Moratin, his "Origenes del Teatro Español," II. 249, note. His dramatic criticism, III. 249, note. Moriscos, the Moors so called, II. 422. Gonsalvo's kindness to them, III. 294. Moya, marchioness of. See Bobadilla. Muñoz, Juan Bautista, notice of him, and his writings, II. 508, note.

N.

Naharro, Bartholomeo Torres de, notice of him, II. 240. His comedies, 241. Najara, duke of, dissatisfied with the queen's settlement of the regency, III.

209. Surrenders, 287. Arrives at Pampelona with reinforcements, 356. Names, Arabian mode of selecting, I. 349, note. Naples, dissatisfactions respecting the crown of, II. 274. Threatened by Louis XII., III. 9. Partition of, between France and Spain, II, 13, 20. Ground of Ferdinand's claim to, 14. Astonishment of Italy, at the partition of, 20. French forces there, 40. Submission of, to the Spanish, 81. Gonsalvo's triumphant entry into, 82. Princes of, 82, note. Reduction of the fortresses of, 84. Enthusiasm for Gonsalvo at, 152. Extortions of the Spanish troops there, 153. Treaty respecting, 217. Enthusiastic reception of Ferdinand at, 262. Dissatisfactions there, 266. Ferdinand's acts there, 275. Gonsalvo leaves, 278. The pope grants the investiture of, to Ferdinand, 336. Government of, 468. Regard there for Ferdinand, 469. See Charles VIII., and Garigliano. Navagiero, Andrea, his account of the revenues of the nobles in Castile, III. 434, note. Cited respecting chivalry in the war of Granada, 488. Notice of him and his works, 489, note. Navarre, in the middle of the fifteenth century, I. xxx. Title of Carlos to, 30. Factions of the Beaumonts and Agramonts, 32. Defeat of Carlos, 33. Influence of Louis XI. in the councils of; crown of, devolves on Francis Phœbus, 353. Marriage of Catharine of, II. 5. Sovereigns of, III. 347. Ferdinand's distrust of, 348. Negotiations of, with France, 349. Ferdinand demands a passage through, for his army, 350, 362. Embarrassing situation of the princes of, 351. Allied to France, 351. Invaded by the duke of Alva, 352. Abandoned by John, 352. Conquered, 354. United with Castile, 359, 466. Examination of Ferdinand's conduct respecting the treatment of, 359. Excommunication of the sovereigns of, by Julius II., 360. Imprudence of, in not granting Ferdinand's

- request, 364; authorizes war, 364. Gross abuse of the victory over, 364. Authorities respecting, 366, note. French defeated by a force sent there by Ximenes, 408.
- Navarrete, Martin Fernandez de, his researches in the public archives of Spain, II. 133, 507, note.
- Navarro, Pedro, his celebrity, III. 17. Defends Canosa, 44. His services at Naples, 84. Joins Gonsalvo, 120. Commander of the expedition against Oran, 300, 303. Sends for the cardinal to take possession of Oran, 307. His opposition to Ximenes, 308. His African conquests, 312. His fate, 314, note. His conduct at the battle of Ravenna, 339.
- Navigation, historical remarks respecting, II. 110.
- Negroes, slavery of the, sanctioned, II. 496. See Indians.
- Nemours, duke of, supersedes D'Aubigny, III. 40. Invests Barleta, 43. Defies the Spaniards, 52. Discomfited, 53. His expedition to Castellaneta, 55. Fights the Spanish at Cerignola, 74. His forces, 75. His death, 76. Rout of the French, 77, 79. His burial, 79. See Foix.
- New World, historians of the, II. 506, note. Inquisition extended to the, III. 409.
- Nobles of Castile, privileges and immunities of the, I. lviii. Their jealousy of Alvaro de Luna, 7. Their league against Henry IV., of Castile, 75. Oppose the Santa Hermandad, 181. Plans for reducing, 199. Policy of the sovereigns towards the, 393. Magnificence of the, 398. Their gallantry, 399. The queen's care for the education of the, II. 191. Their scholarship, 195. Accomplished women, 196. Dissatisfied with the queen's settlement of the regency, III. 209. Their disgust with Ferdinand's severity, in the case of the marquis of Priego, 290. Their feelings at the death of Ferdinand, 387. Ximenes replies to, 407. Depression of, by Ferdinand and Isabella, at their accession, 431. Their great power, 433. Their immense revenues, 434.
- Northmen, remarks on the discoveries by the, II. 119, note, 131, note.
- Norton, Andrews, his "Evidences of the Genuineness of the Gospels," commended, III. 325, note.
- Novara, battle of, III. 345.
- Noyon, treaty of, III. 413.
- Nuñez, employed on the compilation of the Complutensian Polyglot, III. 323, note.
- O.
- Oliva, Fernan Perez de, notice of, II. 245. His classical imitations, 246. Not popular, 247.
- Olmedo, battles of, I. 7, 86.
- Omeiyades, dynasty of the, I. 275, 276. Sumptuous public works by the, 277. Their revenues, 280. Their decay, 286, 292, 300.
- Oran, description of, III. 299. Warlike preparations against, 300. Battle before, 304. The city of, stormed, 305. Entered by the army, 306. Moorish loss at, 306. Entered by Ximenes, 307. Miracle said to have been performed there, 307, note. Ximenes said to continue to watch over, 315, note. Earthquake at, in 1790, and abandoned, 315, note.
- Ordenanças Reales, the work of Montalvo, I. 198, III. 448.
- Orders. See Military Orders.
- Ortega, John de, scales the battlements of Alhama, I. 323.
- Orthès, treaty of, III. 357.
- Ostia, the storming and capture of, II. 332.
- Ovando, Nicholas de, sent out to Hispaniola, II. 477. Instructions to, 478. Refuses Columbus admittance to Hispaniola, 484. Sends Bobadilla and others to Spain, 484.
- Oviedo y Valdez, Gonzalo Fernandez de, author of the "Quincuagenas," facts respecting, I. 112, note. Character of his work, 113.

P.

- Pacheco, Juan, marquis of Villena. See Villena.
- Pacific Ocean, its discovery, and the effect thereof on Spain, iii. 472.
- Palencia, repurchases its ancient right of representation, i. 10.
- Palencia, Alonso de, notice of, i. 136.
- Palice, Sire de la, iii. 41. At Canosa, 44. His brave defence of Ruvo, 56. Made prisoner, 57. Treatment of, 58. Commands the French retreat from Italy, 344. Strengthens Longueville, 356.
- Palos, Columbus sails from, ii. 129. Reception of Columbus at, on his return from his first voyage, 162.
- Pampelona, the duke of Alva retreats to, iii. 356. Besieged, 356.
- Papal indulgences. See Indulgences.
- Paredes, Diego de, heroism of, iii. 135.
- Pearl fisheries, returns from the, iii. 469, 470, note.
- Pedro, constable of Portugal, crown of Catalonia offered to, i. 52. His death, 53.
- Peña de los Enamorados, origin of its name, i. 347.
- Perez, Fray Juan de Marchena, guardian of the convent of La Rabida, his interest and exertions in behalf of Columbus, ii. 120, 124.
- Perpignan, gallant defence of, i. 122. Siege and reduction of, by the French, 133.
- Pesaro, a Venetian admiral, storms St. George, iii. 17.
- Peschiera, Louis XII., hangs the governor of, and his son, iii. 383.
- Peter IV., prepares laws for the discipline of the navy, i. lxxxiv. Defeats the army of the Union, at Epila, xciii. His magnanimous policy, xciv.
- Philip, archduke, son of Maximilian, union of, with Joanna, ii. 348, 352. His claims to the crown of Castile, after the death of Prince John, 359. Charles V., son of, iii. 61. His visit to Spain with Joanna, 62. Reception of, at the French court, 62, 68; in Spain, 63. Recognised by the cortes, 64. His discontent, 65. Leaves Spain for France, 67. Negotiates a treaty with Louis XII., 68. Louis XII. demands an explanation of him, 87. His treatment of Joanna, 171, 246. His pretensions to supremacy in Castile, 210. Increase of his party, 211. Tampers with Gonsalvo, 212. Lands at Coruña, and is joined by the nobles, 223. Martyr's account of his character, 225. Avoids Ferdinand, 225. His interviews with Ferdinand, 227, 232. His arbitrary government, 247. Refers the affairs of the Inquisition to the royal council, 250. His death, 255. His character, 256. His remains moved to Granada, 268, 283, 284, note.
- Philip II., claims the Portuguese crown, iii. 487, note.
- Philip and Joanna; the accession of, iii. 207. Embark for Spain, and arrive in England, 221. Arrive at Coruña, 222; Sovereignty of Castile surrendered to, 230. Proceed to Valladolid, 246. Style of living at the court of, 248.
- Phœbus, Francis, the crown of Navarre devolves on, 353. Proposition for the union of, with Joanna, the daughter of Ferdinand and Isabella, 354. His sudden death, 354, iii. 347.
- Pinciano. See Nuñez.
- Pisa, France and Spain withdraw their protection from, iii. 332.
- Pius III., elected pope, iii. 118. His death, 118.
- Plague, its ravages in Castile, i. 223; at Seville, 253.
- Poetry, Castilian, i. 12. Premium for, at Seville, 21. Hebrew, 237. Moorish, 307, ii. 216. Subsequent Castilian, 216. Development of the Castilian, and further remarks respecting it, iii. 494, note.
- Poison, put upon arrows by the Moors, i. 389.
- Polygamy, the cause of the revolution in Granada, i. 348.
- Polyglot Bible, Ximenes's edition of, ii. 201, note, 204, iii. 312. Account of it, 321. Difficulties of the task, 323.

Scholars employed in its compilation, 323, note. Its merits, 325. Destruction of the manuscripts which formed the basis of it, 325.

Pope, difference of the crown with the, i. 220. Makes a grant to Ferdinand and Isabella, 356. See Alexander VI., Julius II., Leo X., Pius III., and Sixtus IV.

Population, augmentation of, in Spain, iii. 485. Census of, in Castile, 485, note. Mode of estimating it, 485, note.

Portugal, treaty of peace with, i. 171. Application of Columbus to the king of, ii. 119. Treatment of Jews in, 144, 162, note. Jews banished from, 355. King and queen of, visit Spain, 359. Philip II.'s claim to the crown of, iii. 487, note. See Alfonso.

Portuguese, maritime enterprise of the, ii. 112. Jealous of the Spanish maritime enterprise, 175.

Pragmáticas, issued, i. 8, iii. 435. Frequency of, in the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, 441, note. Collected and published, 448.

Press, censorship of the, established, ii. 203.

Priego. See Cordova, Pedro de.

Printing, introduction of, into Spain, ii. 206. The queen encourages it, 206. Its rapid diffusion, 207. Frequency of presses for, iii. 483.

Provençal literature, revives in Aragon, i. cxix. Flourishes in Valencia, cxxiii; writers there, cxxii. Abandoned, cxxiv. Pulci, the Florentine poet, cited respecting the existence of land in the west, ii. 117.

Pulgar, Fernando del, his account of the Swiss mercenaries, i. 396. Remarks respecting him, 409, note.

Purgatory, exemption from, by papal bulls, i. 69, note.

Q.

Quincuagenas, account of this curious manuscript, i. 113, note.

Quintanilla, his life of Ximenes, ii. 399.

R.

Rank, not a passport to honor, i. 200.

Ravenna, battle of, iii. 339; its effects, 342.

Ravenstein, Philip, iii. 19, 22. Shipwrecked, 27.

Redondilla, remark on the, ii. 220, note.

Reduan, i. 362, 369.

Reform, of the monasteries, ii. 383. In the diocese of Ximenes, 390. Of the monastic orders, 392; great excitement caused by it, 392; visit of the Franciscan general, who insults the queen, 393. The pope's interference, and the queen's consent to a reform, 395. Its operation and effects, 396.

René le Bon, of Anjou, crown of Catalonia offered to, i. 54.

Repartimientos, the system of, iii. 473.

Revenues, derived from the West Indies, iii. 469, 481. Augmentation of the, 484.

Richelieu, Cardinal, his declaration on his death-bed, iii. 416. Parallel between him and Ximenes, 426.

Riol, Santiago Agustin, on the various tribunals, under Ferdinand and Isabella, iii. 452, note.

Rivers, earl of, from Britain. See Scales.

Robertson, William, i. lxxvii. note. On the genuineness of Isabella's testament, iii. 210, note. On Ferdinand's intention to oppose Philip's landing, 214, note. On Ferdinand's proposed union with Joanna Beltraneja, 214, note. On the queen's exaction of an oath from Ferdinand that he would not marry a second time, 223, note. His bias respecting Ferdinand's transactions with Philip, 234, note. On Ximenes's objection to slavery, 409, note.

Roderic, king of the Goths, fatal battle of, i. 273.

Roger, Ponce, a reconciled heretic, his punishment, i. 234, note.

Roman Catholic. See Church.

Romances of chivalry, ii. 212. Their evil effects, 215.

Rome, perfidious policy of, in regard to dispensations, i. 267. See Church, and Pope.

Ronda, prisoners taken at, liberated, i. 405. Hamet Zeli, the defender of, ii. 17. Rendezvous at, 432, 441.
 Roussillon, pledged to the French king, i. 50. Revolt there, 120. Second French invasion of, 130. Siege and reduction of; perfidy of Louis XI., 133. Negotiations respecting, ii. 268. Restored to Aragon, 271. Invaded by the French, iii. 98.
 Ruvo, captured, iii. 56; the important consequences, 59.

S.

St. Angel, Louis de, intercedes with Isabella for Columbus, ii. 127.
 St. Dominic, remarks on, i. 232, note. Act of, for a penitent heretic, 234, note.
 St. George, the storming of, iii. 17.
 St. James, grand master of, i. 114. Military order of, 210. See Cardenas and Villena.
 Salamanca, literary character of, ii. 203. The concord of, iii. 220, 224. University of, 327, 483.
 Salsas, siege of, iii. 99.
 Saluzzo, marquis of, sent to the relief of Gaeta, iii. 115, 119. Succeeds the marquis of Mantua as commander of the French army in Italy, 133. His retreat to Gaeta, 141. Routed, 144. Fate of the army under, 150. His death, 151.
 San Germano, Gonsalvo takes post at, iii. 122.
 Santa Fe, history of the origin of, ii. 92.
 Santa Hermandad, establishment of the, i. 179. See Hermandad.
 Santillana, Inigo Lopez de Mendoza, marquis of, an illustrious wit of the reign of John II., i. 16. His death, 18, 79. Cited, 27, note.
 Saracen invasion of Spain, i. xxix, xxxvii.
 Saragossa, Autos da fe celebrated at, ii. 8. Visited by the sovereigns, 45.
 Savona, brilliant interview of Ferdinand and Louis XII. at, iii. 278.
 Scales, Lord, aids the Spanish sovereigns, i. 397. The queen's courtesy to, 398. His costume at the meeting of Ferdinand and Isabella before Moelin, 402. Loses his life, ii. 49, note.
 Scott, Sir Walter, his representation of René's character, i. 54, note; of Rebecca and Isaac, 239, note.
 Sculptors in Spain, iii. 483.
 Segovia, interview there, between Henry IV. and Isabella, i. 127. Isabella proclaimed queen there, 141. Tumult at, suppressed by Isabella, 183.
 Seminara, the march against, ii. 306. Battle of, 308.
 Sempere, critical notice of, i. lxxix.
 Seville, the corporation of, offer premiums for poetry, i. 21. Reception of Isabella there, 187. Inquisition at, 250. Prevalence of the plague at, 253. Reception of Columbus at, ii. 164. Colonial trade confined to, 495. Heretics burned there, iii. 491, note. See Mendoza.
 Sforza, Lodovico, intrigues of, ii. 264. His proposal to the king of France, 265. Jealous of the French, 282, 289. Unpopularity of, iii. 4. His fate, 5.
 Sheep, in Castile, i. Iv.
 Sidonia, Medina, the duke of, head of the Guzmans, i. 119. A supporter of Isabella, 189. Marches to relieve Alhama, 333; to Malaga, ii. 29. Death of, 107, note. Application made to, by Columbus, 123. His income, iii. 434, note.
 Sierra Vermeja, revolt of the, ii. 431. Expedition into the, 433. Spaniards routed there, 439. Submission of, 441. Fate of the inhabitants of, 441. Ballads thereon, 442. Melancholy reminiscences respecting, 444.
 Silva, Alonso de, sent by Ferdinand to the French court, ii. 275. Charles's dissatisfaction with him, 276. Opens a correspondence with Sforza, 282.
 Silva, Juan de, count of Cifuentes, his connexion with the expedition to Arquia, i. 359, 360.
 Silveira, Fernando de, representative of the prince of Portugal, at the affiancing with the infanta Isabella, ii. 80.

- Sismondi, remarks on the writings of, ii. 328, note.
- Sixtus IV., the sovereigns of Castile differ with, i. 220. Sends a legate to the court of Castile, 221. Grants a bull, authorizing the Inquisition in Castile, 248. His conduct, 254. His present of a cross to the sovereigns for a standard, 404.
- Slaves, condition of the Visigothic, i. xxxv. Regular exchange of, recommended by Columbus, ii. 470. Isabella's proceedings in regard to, 470, 496. Sent back, 471. Introduction of, into the New World, 496. In the colonies, 475.
- Slidell, his remarks on the armour of Ferdinand and Isabella, i. 403, note. His description of Toledo, iii. 481, note.
- Solis, invited to court, iii. 470. His discoveries, 472.
- Sos, in Aragon, the birth-place of Ferdinand the Catholic, i. 34.
- Soto, Ferdinand de, his discoveries and death, iii. 472, note.
- Sotomayor, Alonso de, his duel with Bayard, iii. 47.
- Sousa, first gains the summit of the walls of Oran, iii. 305.
- South Sea, effect of its discovery on Spain, iii. 472.
- Southey, Robert, his History of the Spanish Arabs, i. 315, note.
- Spain, i. xxix. Consolidation of the various states of, xxix. Number of states in, reduced to four, xxx. Influence of the Visigoths on, xxxii; of the Saracen invasion on, xxxiv; of the ecclesiastics there, xxxix. State of the Jews in, at the accession of Isabella, 242. Early successes of Mahometanism and the Arabs in, i. 270. Conquest of, 273. Treatment of Christians in, 274. Mineral wealth of, 281. Civilities between the people of, and the Spanish Arabs, 293. Merits of the scholars of, ii. 201. Universities of, 202. Introduction of printing into, 206; encouraged by the queen, 206; its rapid diffusion, 207. Importance of the treaty of Barcelona to, 271. Alarmed at the expedition of Charles VIII. into Italy 272. Peace of, with France, 335. Influence of the Italian wars on, 339. Moral consequences of her discoveries in the west, 503. Her geographical extent, 505. Neutrality of, secured in relation to France and Italy, iii. 5. Alarmed by the French conquests in Italy, 6. Rupture of, with France, 34. Invasion of, by Louis XII., 97. Effects of the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella on, 429. Policy of the crown at their accession, 430. Depression of the nobles in, 431. Treatment of the church in, 435. Morals there, 437. State of the commons in, 437. Royal ordinances for, 441. Advancement of prerogative in, 445. Legal compilations there, 447. Organization of councils in, 450. Legal profession in, advanced, 452. Character of the laws during the reign of Ferdinand and Isabella, 453. Erroneous principles of legislation in, 456. Principal exports from, 458. Manufactures, 459. Agriculture, 460. Economical policy in, 463. Internal improvements in, 465. Increase of the empire of, 466. Its government of Naples, 468. Its revenues from the Indies, 469. Spirit of adventure in, 471. Progress of discovery, 472. Effect produced there, by the discovery of the South Sea, 473. Slavery in its colonies, 475. Administration of laws in the colonies of, 478. Its general prosperity, 479. Opulence of the towns of, 481. Public embellishments in, 482. Augmentation of its revenue, 484; of its population, 485. Patriotic principle in, 487. Chivalrous spirit, 488. Spirit of bigotry in, 491. Beneficent impulse there, 492. The period of its national glory, 495. See Castile.
- Spaniards, their gradual encroachment on the Saracens, i. xxxvii. Dissensions among them, xxxvii. Extend their conquests to the Douro and Tagus, xxxviii. Their religious fervor and fanaticism, xxxviii. Their traditional minstrelsy, xl. Their respect for the Mahometans, xlii. Early discoveries by the, ii. 112. Their progress in discovery, iii. 472. Their excesses, 473. Their patriotic principle, 487. Their chivalrous spirit, 488. See Castile.

Spanish Arabs. See Moors.

Spanish fleet, fitted out under Gonsalvo de Cordova, iii. 12.

Stage, low condition of the, ii. 244.

Sugar-cane, introduced into Hispaniola from the Canaries, iii. 470.

Swiss mercenaries, Pulgar's account of the, i. 396. Employment of, ii. 105. Their value in the expedition of Charles VIII., 280. Their organization, 280.

T.

Talavera, Fray Fernando de, anecdote respecting him and Isabella, i. 246. Regards Columbus's theory as visionary, ii. 120. Opposes the demands of Columbus, 126. Archbishop of Granada, 404. Remarks respecting, 405, 406. His mild policy, 406; the clergy dissatisfied with it, 408. Appeases the insurgents of the Albaycin, 418. Commends Ximenes, 424. The queen's correspondence with, iii. 189, note. A victim of the Inquisition, 249, note.

Tarento, invested by Gonsalvo de Cordova, iii. 26. Surrenders, 30.

Tendilla, Iñigo Lopez de Mendoza, count of, remarks respecting, ii. 404. His conduct at the Albaycin, 418. His income, iii. 434, note.

Thiene, his "Lettere sulla Storia de' Mali Venerei," iii. 502, note.

Ticknor, George, his essay on the early progress of the dramatic and the histrionic art in Spain, ii. 249, note.

Time, economy of, by Ximenes, iii. 424.

Toledo, account of the environs of, iii. 461, note.

Toledo, wealth and grandeur of the archbishop of, i. lxix., iii. 434, note. See Carillo, Mendoza, and Ximenes.

Toledo, Fadrigue de. See Alva.

Toledo, Garcia de, commander of the expedition against Gelves, loses his life, iii. 313, note.

Toleration, among the Moors, i. xxxiii. Remarks on the want of, ii. 448. See Intolerance.

Tordesillas, treaty of ii. 181.

Toro, battle of, i. 160. Meeting of the assembly at, in 1505, iii. 207.

Toro, Leyes de, iii. 448.

Torquemada, Thomas de, the confessor of Isabella, facts respecting, i. 247. Inquisitor-general of Castile and Aragon, 255. Convictions under, 264. His last days and death, 267. His fanaticism, 268. His violent conduct at a Jewish negotiation with Ferdinand and Isabella, ii. 137. Forbids the Jews receiving assistance, 143.

Torture, by the Inquisition, i. 257.

Tournament, near Trani, iii. 46.

Trade, various regulations of, i. 223, iii. 453.

Trani, tournament near, iii. 46.

Trastamara, revolution of, i. 3. Termination of the male line of the house of, 136.

Tribunals of Castile, reorganization of the, i. 192.

Tripoli, captured, iii. 313.

Truxillo, punishment of certain ecclesiastics there, ii. 4.

Turks, Frederic's application to, for aid, iii. 10. Gonsalvo's expedition against them, 16. Their defence of St. George, 17.

U.

Universities, Spanish, ii. 202, iii. 315, 327, 483.

Ureña, count of, ii. 433. His conduct at the Sierra Vermeja, 437, 439, 443. Goes out to meet Gonsalvo, iii. 291. Comes into collision with Ximenes, 411.

- V.
- Valdata, her intellectual character, i. 286, note.
- Valencia, conquered by Aragon, i. lxxxiii. Loans by the city of, ii. 65. Printing press at, in 1474, 207.
- Vega, Garcilasso de la, rescues Ferdinand, ii. 15. Notice of, 18, note. Minister of Ferdinand, 282. Aids Gonsalvo at the storming of Ostia, 332. His boldness towards the pope, iii. 7. Ferdinand's deportment towards him, 228, 273.
- Vega, Lorenzo Suarez de la, his negotiations at Venice, iii. 8. His ability, 112, note.
- Velasco, Bernardino de, grand constable, iii. 290. Proposed union of, with Elvira, 292. Facts respecting, 292, note. His income, 434, note.
- Velez Malaga, position of, ii. 12. Its surrender, 15.
- Velilla, prophetic tintinnabulations of the miraculous bell of, iii. 382, note.
- Venerable disease, origin of the, ii. 501.
- Venice, the celebrated league of, ii. 290. Aids France against Milan, iii. 5. Ferdinand's negotiations with, 8. Her distrust of France, 112. Projects against, 330. Partition of, by the treaty of Cambrai, 330. Power of, broken by the battle of Agnadel, 333. Continental provinces of, released from their allegiance, 334. Becomes a party in the Holy League, 337. Disgusted, 344. Her definitive treaty with France, for their mutual defence, 344. Laid waste by Cardona, 345. Daru's History of, 346, note.
- Vergara, Juan de, employed in the compilation of the Complutensian Polyglot; iii. 323, note. His epitaph on Ximenes, 418, note.
- Vespucci, Amerigo, ii. 482, note. Gives the name to the western continent, iii. 470.
- Viana, prince of. See Carlos.
- Vicenza, cruelties at the capture of, iii. 342, note.
- Villafrata, destroyed by Ximenes, iii. 411.
- Villena, Henry, marquis of, his literary character, i. 14. Fate of his library, 16, 266, note.
- Villena, Juan Pacheco, marquis of, character and influence of, i. 70. Disgraced, 74. His league with the archbishop of Toledo against the crown, 75. Assists in deposing Henry IV., 78. His intrigues to prevent a reconciliation of parties, 80. Supports Joanna Beltraneja, 98, 165. Threatens Isabella with imprisonment, 100. His endeavours to prevent the union of Ferdinand and Isabella, 104. Appointed grand master of St. James, 114. His avarice, 116, note. Incenses Henry IV. against Isabella, 128. His death, 134. Dissatisfied with the settlement of the queen's regency, iii. 209. Favors Ferdinand, 273. His income, 434, note.
- Visigoths, overrun Spain, i. xxxii. Character of their laws, xxxiii. Spain taken from them, xxxiii. Condition of slaves among them, xxxv.

W.

- War of the Succession, i. 139.
- Weights and measures, laws respecting, iii. 466.
- West, belief of land in the, ii. 116.
- West Indies, discovery of the, ii. 161. Why so called, 167. Regulations of trade with, 168. Preparations for a second voyage to, 169. See Colonies, Hispaniola, and Indies.
- Western Caliphate, the, 275.
- Wool, in Spain, iii. 459.

X.

- Ximenes, Cardinal, his famous Polyglot Bible, ii. 201, note, 204. His birth, 373. Visits Rome, 374. His return, and imprisonment, 375. Established at Sigüenza, 376. Enters the Franciscan order, 376. His severe penance, 377. His ascetic life, 378. Made guardian of Salzeda, 379. Introduced to the queen, and made her confessor, 380. Elected provincial, 381. His attempts at reform, 383. The see of Toledo offered to him, 386. He reluctantly accepts, 387. Anecdotes of, 388. His austere life, 389. Reform in his diocese, 390. Example of his severity, 391. Authorities on whom his life mainly rests, 398, note. His moral energy, 403. Goes to Granada, 409. His violent measures for converting the Moors, 410. Destroys Arabic books, 413. Besieged in his palace, 417. His communications to the sovereigns respecting the revolt of the Albaycin, 420. Hastens to court, 421. General approbation of his measures, 424. His rebuke of Vianelli, iii. 173, note. Sustained by the queen, 187. Remonstrates with Philip on the recklessness of his measures, 248. His influence, 258. His conduct upon the death of Philip, 259, 273, note. Honors conferred; his enthusiasm, 297. His designs against Oran, 299. His warlike preparations, 300. His perseverance, 301. Sends an army to Africa, 301. Addresses the troops, 302. Relinquishes the command to Navarro, 303. His entry into Oran, 307. Opposition to him, by Navarro, 308. His distrust of Ferdinand, 309. Gives counsel to Navarro, and returns to Spain, 310. Refuses public honors, 311. His return to Alcalá, 311. His general deportment, 311. Visits the families of his diocese, 312. Busily occupied with his university at Alcalá, 315. Said to continue to watch over Oran after his death, 315, note. His reception of Ferdinand at the university of Alcalá, 316. Account of his Polyglot Bible, 321; difficulties of the task, 323; persons employed about it, 323, note. His gratitude on its completion, 324. His projected edition of Aristotle, 324, note. Grand projects of, 326. His bequest to the university of Alcalá, 327. The administration of Castile left to, 385, 386. Meets with opposition respecting the regency, 404. Opposes the desire of Charles to be proclaimed king, 405. Replies to the Castilian aristocracy, 407. His military ordinance, 407. His domestic policy, 408. His foreign policy, 408. Sends a commission to Hispaniola, to ameliorate the condition of the natives, 409, 477. Extends the Inquisition, 409. Assumes the sole power, 410. Intimidates the nobles, 411. Burns Villafra, 411. Public discontents under, 412. His reception of Charles, 414. Charles's ungrateful letter to, 415. His last illness, 415. His death, 416. Celebration of his obsequies, 417. Vergara's epitaph on, 418, note. His character, 418. His versatility of talent, 418. His bigotry, 419. His despotic government, 419. His moral principle, 420. His disinterestedness, 421. His self-confidence, 422. His chastity, 422. His monastic austerity, 423. Anecdote in relation to his dress, 423. Quintanilla cited respecting, 424, note. His economy of time, 424. Description of his person, 425. Examination of his skull, 425, note. Parallel between him and Richelieu, 426.

Z.

Zagal. See Abdallah.

Zahara, surprised by the Moors, i. 317.

Zamora, defection of, i. 151. Ferdinand passes to, 156. King of Portugal arrives before, 157. Surrender of, 166.

Zamora, Alfonso, employed in the compilation of the Complutensian Polyglot, iii. 323.

Zegri, a Moor, his conversion, ii. 412.

Zeli, Hamet, the defender of Ronda, intrusted with the command of Gebalfaro, ii. 17. His remark after his surrender, 38.

- Zenete, Abrahen, a noble Moor, generosity of, II. 31.
- Zoraya, the sultana, jealous of the sultan, Abul Hacen, I. 348. Her success, 349. Her embassy to Cordova for the redemption of Abdallah, 379. Her reproof of Abdallah for his weakness, II. 99.
- Zuñiga, Lopez de, employed in the compilation of the Complutensian Polyglot, III. 323, note.
- Zurita, Gerónimo, his life and writings, II. 292.

JUNTA DE ANDALUCÍA

P.C. Monumental de la Alhambra y Generalife
CONSEJERÍA DE CULTURA

THE END.

Faded, illegible text at the top of the page, likely bleed-through from the reverse side.

JUNTA DE ANDALUCIA

CAMBRIDGE:
FOLSON, WELLS, AND THURSTON,
PRINTERS TO THE UNIVERSITY.

P.C. de la Alhambra y Generalife
CONSILIERIA DE CULTURA